To whom it may concern,

This is to inform that we have been using Aosta's BackBone HMIS software for our hospital and lab management for the past four years successfully. The product is found to be good and we found the system to be effective and efficient in handling patient detailed process. The company has good support infrastructure and are able to efficiently solve our issues in short time. Also Aosta Software have experienced engineers in the field of hospital domain.

As a head of IT i recommend this product to any potential hospital looking for a HMIS solution
